Spotlight on Disability Friendly Businesses and Accessibility

Apple states that "The best technology is designed with everyone in mind. That's why our products and services have built-in features to help you create, connect, and do what you love, your way. Our long-standing commitment to accessibility is fundamental to everything we do."

Apple has various accessibility features that can be explored with an accessibility support specialist. Supports can be found to assist with: Multi Language Learners, blind/low vision individuals, hearing impaired, and movement impaired individuals. These features may include: voiceover, magnifier, live captions, hearing health, live listen, live speech, assistive touch, voice control, eye tracking, etc.

For more information regarding accessibility, visit your local apple store or visit online:
